Our programs and workshops can assist you to build resilience and emotional intelligence in your child and teen, navigate the complexities of blended and separated families and learn how to form better relationships with your children.

We also provide individual or single-session parenting consults on request.

Family Preservation and Reunification Response

We support families to keep children safely at home, prevent children's entry into out-of-home care, and safely reunify children recently placed in care with their family. Our team provides relational, evidence-informed and targeted support to children and families who are involved with Child Protection, who are at risk of safety concerns escalating or who have children recently placed in out-of-home care.
